April 2026

A great fun hearted poem from Kathy Hawkins to put a smile in your heart today! Thank you Kathy for your joyful words!!

The Sneaky Squirrel

By Kathy Hawkins

A beautiful day where a crisp wind filtered the air
A young couple together holding hands without care

Walking along the curvy path on the campus filled with trees
Where a hefty fee will be imposed if the squirrels are ever teased

The parents followed at a distance from the youngsters in love
Squirrels running rampant in the tree branches above

Alongside a building a trashcan sat close to the walking path
Something inside sat in waiting to provide a little wrath

Just as the young couple holding hands approached the trashcan
They heard the noise inside and looking back yelled squirrel and ran

The mother smiled as she knew exactly what they meant
The father not hearing their words continued along as he went

Upon reaching the trashcan a mighty squirrel flew wildly out of the bin
Making the father scream and nearly jump out of his skin

With laughter so hard the tears ran down the young couple's faces
While the squirrel ran faster than runners in the Olympic races

To this very day the story of the sneaky squirrel still lives
And once again the laughter and tears it continues to give

So, on these cold days of winter that can be depressing and blue
Share the story of the sneaky squirrel to brighten the day of a friend or two.

We're still basking in the glow, we're still celebrating, or we should be. Notice today is named "Second Sunday of Easter." That "of" is important. We are Easter people. All of our worship is Resurrection worship. We continue to proclaim that Christ is Risen when we gather for worship during this season and, yes, we can proclaim that all year long because every Sunday is Easter Sunday.

April 19, 2026

Pastor Bridget Leading

We too often want to get back to normal, to the same old, same old. But that's the whole point of Easter; there is no same old anymore. Everything is new. We might be living in a Good Friday kind of world, but we are Easter People. When Peter addressed the crowd with the eleven, he implored them to embrace the change - the "newness" - of life in Christ

How we live with suffering and how we acknowledge God's presence in our suffering is what makes us able to endure. There is a presence, a guardian of the soul, that gives us hope. That presence is one who is familiar with suffering. This one walks with us into the suffering. This guardian is a close companion, not one who waits until we make it through on our own and then gives us a gold star or some other commendation. No, this one is right there with us. This one knows us. This guardian cares for us. This is why in addition to being the guardian of our souls, Jesus is the good shepherd.

30 Days of Choosing Gratitude

A Simple Guide to Finding Joy in Everyday Life

Life moves fast. It's easy to focus on what's missing, what's stressful, or what's next on the list. Gratitude helps us slow down and see the good that's already here.

Science shows that practicing gratitude can boost happiness, lower stress, and even strengthen relationships. But gratitude is more than positive thinking—it's a way of shifting our perspective, one day at a time.

This 30-day gratitude guide gives you a simple verse, reflection, and action step each day. Whether you're exploring faith, growing in it, or just looking for a fresh perspective, you'll find that gratitude changes the way you see your life.

How to Use This Guide

Read the verse - Each one offers wisdom and encouragement.

Reflect - Pause and consider the question for yourself.

Take the step - Gratitude grows when we practice it.

Here's the truth, gratitude doesn't always come naturally. It's easy to focus on what's wrong, what we don't have, or what feels unfair. But choosing gratitude shifts our focus. It reminds us that even in hard seasons, there's still something to thank God for.

Think about it: every sunrise, every breath, every friend, every meal, these are daily gifts we can so easily overlook. Gratitude opens our eyes to see that nothing is too small to celebrate.

How to Practice Gratitude Daily

Start your day with thanks - Before checking your phone or rushing into the day, pause to name three things you're grateful for.

Write it down - Keep a journal or even a note in your phone where you jot down moments of gratitude.

Share it with others - Gratitude multiplies when it's spoken.

Send a quick text or tell someone how thankful you are for them.

Below is A 30-Day Challenge. Each day gives you a short Bible verse, a reflection question, and a simple action step. It's a practical way to build gratitude into your routine and see God's hand in your everyday life.
