Pastors' notes... 10 Fun Facts About August

1. August was once the 6th month of the year In the Roman calendar, August was known as "Sextilis", the Latin word for 6. It wasn't until 700 BC when January and February were added to the calendar, that August was bumped down to become the 8th month of the year.

2. How many days are in August? Come on, August! Make a choice! The number of days in August has changed many times. First it was 30 days. Then, 31. When January and February came onto the scene, August got reduced to 29 days. Then, Julius Caesar changed it back to 31. Thankfully it has remained that way ever since. Did you know August was named after Augustus Caesar?

3. August has an identity crisis While "Sextilis" does have a somewhat naughty ring to it, it was in 8 BC when it was dropped and Augustus became the official name. The month was named in honor of Augustus Caesar, the Roman emperor and adopted son of Julius Caesar. Eventually, Augustus was shortened to simply, August.

4. No other month with the same starting day Here is one of the more interesting August facts – in a regular year, no other month starts on the same day of the week as August. In a leap year, that other quirky month, February, will start on the same day of the week as August. It's interesting the way the days fall within a month, isn't it?

5. The lion and the virgin No, we're not in a Madonna music video! The two zodiac signs that represent the month of August are Leo and Virgo. Leos, represented by the lion, are people born from August 1st to August 22nd. Virgos, represented by the virgin, are people born from August 22nd to August 31st. Peridot is the birthstone for August

6. The underrated birthstone of August A birthstone of the highest beauty, period. Errr, we mean peridot. Peridot is a stunning green gem that is forged in lava. While it may not be the most well known of the birthstones, its stunning range of color from electric grass to subtle olive, will make anyone green with envy.

7. August is for holidays and vacations The residents of major European cities often go on vacation in August. If you're traveling to Paris or Rome, you will notice that mostly everyone around you are fellow tourists. Don't worry though, while many residents are gone, the service industry remains to take your tourist dollars!

8. The strange days of August There are many strange days celebrated in the month of August, but here are a few of our favorites. August 3rd is National Watermelon Day. August 10th is National Lazy Day. Maybe our favorite, August 16th is National Roller Coaster Day. And finally, August 28th is fancy, it's National Bow Tie Day!

Get ready for National Roller Coaster day in August

9. August is the month of...Sandwiches! This makes sense because the sandwich was invented in August of 1762 when the Earl of Sandwich (yes, that's a real guy) requested two pieces of bread with meat inside. But shouldn't the cook who made the sandwich get the credit? Either way, now all we want is a good sarnie!

10. August is also the month of...Weeds! In the days of the Anglo-Saxons, August was known as "Weod Monath" or Weed Month, because it was when weeds and plants grew the fastest. Here is one of the coolest fun facts about August. Bamboo in August

World Humanitarian Day History

World Humanitarian Day seeks to recognize the compassion and bravery of humanitarian workers. The day also serves to gain international cooperation to meet the needs of humanitarian work around the world. Humanitarian workers provide life-saving assistance like first aid. They also offer nutrition, shelter, and help with rebuilding after disaster strikes. These workers often battle violence, local diseases, and hunger while attempting to save lives and provide relief to those most in need.

World Humanitarian Day was established by the United Nations in December of 2008 to honor the sacrifices of humanitarian workers. It is celebrated annually on August 19, a day that commemorates the 2003 bombing of the UN Headquarters in Iraq.

Summer Book Study (beginning in August)

What if God is saving the best for last? Of all the books of the Bible, Revelation is the one that mystifies and unsettles people the most. From numerical signs to monsters, the book of apocalypse in the Bible can be difficult to wrap our minds around, but the message that Revelation really brings is hope. In this study you will: Uncover the supernatural power of Jesus' names and titles. Be equipped with tactics on how to overcome the wily ways of the enemy. Discover how to triumph through the blood of the lamb and the word of your testimony. Learn that, though life is not always fair, Jesus is NOT finished. John, the author of the book of Revelation, was blessed to see what each of us longs to know, and he gave us a descriptive and poignant expression of the place, the end, and the eternity that God has promised to us. God has indeed saved the best for last, and in Revelation's pages he gives us the one thing we all long for—hope, extravagant hope.

Where We're Headed

My vision for the future of the Minnesota Conference is that we are a spacious conference. God has a mission in the world, and love is at the heart of that mission. It is a heart-enlarging mission. It is a world-shaking mission. It is a mission that leans into trauma, that embraces learning and crosses boundaries, that allows hearts to be broken open to create new spaces—spaces for grace and healing.” Bishop David Bard

The United Methodist Church

Bishop David Bard: “Moving into the future, The United Methodist Church will continue to focus on making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. We will be a church that works to include all persons and to make changes so that the church better reflects the beautiful diversity of God’s people and builds beloved community. We will continue to have global connections and global impact. We will continue to help people connect more deeply with God through Jesus Christ and be open to new ways of doing that through worship, spiritual disciplines, and building community. Through and following whatever separation will happen, The United Methodist Church will continue to change to meet the needs of new people, new generations, and a changing world.”

Minnesota Conference Mission, Vision, and Values:

The Minnesota Annual Conference seeks to be an abundant life in Jesus Christ movement. We are clear about our shared vision: that every congregation be a vital expression of the scriptural imperatives to grow in love of God and neighbor, reach new people, and heal a broken world. In the aspirational vision adopted at the 2019 Annual Conference, we have identified four core values that guide our shared journey: We are rooted in Jesus, grounded in Wesleyan theology, inclusive of all persons, and engaged in the work of justice and reconciliation. Living into our vision and embodying our core values means that we are committed to creating a place at the table for everyone, including LGBTQIA+ persons, and to listening more deeply to voices that have often been marginalized. The Extended Cabinet has created a statement of our commitments that speaks specifically to how we hold the value of LGBTQIA+ inclusion. And the Appointive Cabinet has created a statement on racial justice and reconciliation that lists specific commitments and actions that group will take to acknowledge the sins of racism and injustice and work to transform our Church, our Conference, our communities, and our world into the beloved community.

General Conference 2020 has been postponed several times and will not take place until 2024. But regardless of the outcome of the next General Conference, we will be unwavering in our commitment to full inclusion and laser focused on furthering Jesus’s ministry of extending abundant life to all of God’s children. This extended liminal time does not change who we are as the Minnesota Annual Conference or who we are in Christ.

All Are Welcome:

Bishop David Bard: “I see that our mission, vision, and values really lend themselves to the Minnesota Conference being a spacious place. We are not always going to agree on every way we live out those mission vision, and values, but we’ve said, ‘these are our center,’ and I think it means we can have a wide circumference.”

Rev. Cindy Gregorson: “We have made a commitment as the Minnesota Annual Conference to embrace the richness of diversity. We really want to celebrate and honor the gifts of all who want to come and follow and be part of this Jesus Christ movement. So anyone who says, ‘I’m rooted in Jesus and I’m grounded in a Wesleyan theology and I’m committed to be in ministry in respectful, welcoming ways to all people, and I want to work in a broken world, and I want to be engaged in continuing to look at myself and our church how we can be working on reconciliation,’ we say yes—come be a part of who we are.”

We are better and stronger together, and there's room for theological diversity within our shared journey. We need not all think exactly alike. At the same time, we recognize that some churches and individuals have discerned that their path differs from that of the Minnesota Annual Conference. We are committed to extending love, grace, and kindness and blessing them as they embark on a new journey.
