What is Lent and why does it last forty days?

Lent is a journey of preparation for following the way of Jesus.

Lent is a season of forty days, not counting Sundays, which begins on Ash Wednesday and ends on Holy Saturday.

Lent comes from the Anglo Saxon word lencten, meaning "lengthen" and refers to the lengthening days of spring. The forty days represents the time Jesus spent in the wilderness, enduring the temptation of Satan and preparing to begin his ministry.

Lent is a time of repentance, fasting and preparation for the coming of Easter. It is a time of self-examination and reflection. In the early church, Lent began as a period of fasting and preparation for baptism by new converts and then became a time of penance by all Christians.

Today, Christians focus on relationship with God, growing as disciples and extending ourselves, often choosing to give up something or to volunteer and give of ourselves for others.

Sundays in Lent are not counted in the forty days because each Sunday represents a "mini-Easter." This is why you will see the designation "Sunday in Lent" rather than "Sunday of Lent" in the naming of these Sundays. On each Lord's Day in Lent, while Lenten fasts continue, the reverent spirit of Lent is tempered with joyful anticipation of the Resurrection.

This week, we look at what are called the Beatitudes, the first part of the Sermon on the Mount.

With that in mind what if Jesus began his teaching ministry with a word of encouragement instead of an impossible standard to attain? What if the Beatitudes were a snapshot of the community of faith instead of a measuring rod? What if Jesus was saying, Blessed is the community who makes room for peacemakers? Blessed is the community who makes room for the meek, for those who hunger and thirst after righteousness, who are poor in spirit. Blessed is the community who makes room for those who mourn at the brokenness of the world, who is unstained by the impurity of the world. Blessed is the community who knows persecution is inevitable and still decides to make room for those the world thinks are unimportant." You see, I think Jesus was trying to get us to look again and see who we are, see what is among us. He was opening those folders we had forgotten and showing us our true selves.

"You are the salt of the earth," Jesus said to his disciples in today's gospel reading.

It was a striking image then and it's a striking one now, but what does it imply for the life of discipleship? The implication for disciples is exceedingly curious: it means that we exist for mixing it up with the world. It means that for us to do our savory gospel task of making this world a better place, we need to be out there, being mixed up into people, culture, and society. Following hard on the heels of his Beatitudes that we read about last week, Jesus is saying that if you're going to live those grace-filled attitudes, then it's not enough to work inside the church community, it's not enough to nurture a strong interior life of spirituality. No, the result of all your piety must be pouring yourself out onto this earth so as to bring out life's complex and beautiful flavors. With that amazing image in mind let us come together and worship Him this day.

Today we gather on the hinge between the Ordinary Time or season after the Epiphany and the penitential season of Lent. This is the moment that prepares us for that journey, even as it steeled Christ for the path of suffering. Therefore, it is a day of declaration, when we, once again, claim Jesus Christ as our Lord. We see him as he is, in a way, in this moment of Transfiguration. The glory and love we spoke of last week and will speak again at his death and Resurrection, is revealed in a visible way in this mountaintop moment. We don't have to fully understand all that might be happening here, but we do have to look in awe and wonder at the glory of our God. Today is a day of celebration before a season of denial

We're on a journey. That's how we describe the season of Lent. The Lenten Journey. The very concept implies at least two things: one, that we are moving. This isn't a static, sit-and-contemplate event. We often think of Lent as a time of consideration, self-reflection, and introspection. And certainly, there is an element of that inherent in the design of the season. But movement is built into the pattern of the season. We are walking with Christ. And Christ is on his way somewhere. We are on a path; we are moving toward the cross. That's our destination.

An Update on the Appointive Cabinet and District Leadership

January 18, 2026

As part of our ongoing work to steward leadership well and to respond faithfully to the realities of ministry in this season, I want to share an update regarding the composition of the appointive cabinet and district superintendent oversight.

Beginning in the coming appointment year, the appointive cabinet will be served by three full-time and two half-time district superintendents (aka conference superintendents). This configuration reflects both careful planning and a spirit of holy experimentation as we seek leadership models that are relational, sustainable, and close to the life of local congregations.

With gratitude, we honor Rev. Laurie Kantonen, who will be rotating off the cabinet after completing a seven-year term of faithful and steady service. Laurie's leadership has shaped clergy care, congregational vitality, and cabinet collaboration in profound ways. We give thanks for her wisdom, dedication, and deep love for the Church.

As part of this transition, we will welcome two leaders rotating onto the appointive cabinet in half-time roles. Rev. Gordon Deuel and Rev. Kirkland Reynolds will serve as half-time superintendents while also continuing half-time appointments in their respective local church settings. Together, they will share oversight of the River Bluffs District, bringing collaborative leadership, complementary gifts, and strong grounding in congregational life to this shared role. A few reflections from Kirkland and Gordon follow this letter.

Several additional district transitions will also take place:

- Rev. Michelle Hargrave will move to oversight of the Prairie Winds District, continuing her strong commitment to clergy support, missional alignment, and adaptive leadership.
- Rev. Woojae Im will assume oversight of the Aurora Sky District, bringing thoughtful leadership and deep attentiveness to the diverse contexts of that district.
- Rev. Becky Jo Messenbrink will continue her faithful service as superintendent of the Headwaters District, providing continuity, stability, and trusted leadership.

This cabinet configuration reflects our belief that leadership in this season must be both collaborative and contextual. By blending full-time and co-vocational superintendency, we are intentionally keeping district leadership close to congregational realities—while ensuring strong connectional oversight and shared discernment at the cabinet table.

These changes are made with prayer, care, and confidence in the gifted leaders who are serving the Church in this moment. As always, we trust the Holy Spirit to guide our shared work, strengthening our capacity to love boldly, serve faithfully, and lead with courage in the days ahead.

In faithful service,
Bishop Lanette Plambeck
Resident Bishop
Dakotas-Minnesota Episcopal Area of The United Methodist Church
